

Beasley Tells Opposition to Transit Tax

The Inter-City Highway Committee, representing 11 Southern California cities, has unanimously opposed the Metropolitan Transit Authority's plan to tax property to raise funds to build rapid transit.

Torrance Councilman J. A. Beasley is president of the committee which has from each city, as members, a representative of the Chamber of Commerce, a representative of the city engineer, and a member of the planning commission from each city as members.

"There were 40 attending the meeting in Inglewood and they were unanimous in opposition to the transit tax plan of up to 15 cents per $100 of assessed property valuation" said Councilman Beasley.

In addition to Councilman Beasley, the Torrance members are Walter Nollac, City Engineer; Charles Kastner, of the planning commission, and Don Reining, of the Chamber of Commerce.

The group's next meeting takes place in Manhattan Beach on Feb. 13.
